Let us, the most experienced and largest data breach response company, be part of your incident response team.

Benefits of Priority Response

Our breach response engagements are executed with market-leading and time-tested expertise. We can deploy breach response services in as little as three business days – including project management, notification, call center, website and identity protection services for the impacted population.

With more than 20 years of providing data breach services and solutions to all industries, our Priority Response provides access to preferred pricing, rapid response deployment for each incident, and a dedicated project manager to work with our clients each step of the way. We will also participate in our clients' annual data breach response desktop exercises, in order to ensure smooth execution in the case of a data breach incident. And there is no cost for any organization to become an IDX Priority Response client and partner. Work with IDX for incident response solutions that are trusted, flexible, scalable, and fast.
